

Ipomoea tricolor Heavenly Blue Morning Glory

8- to 10-foot twining vine tumbles over walls, climbs posts, conceals stumps--you name it!

The Classic Blue Morning Glory--Floriferous, Dense, and So Lovely! Big blooms are radiant blue with cheery white throats! Heavenly Blue is the variety most people picture when they think of Morning Glories. Intensely blue and very abundant, the soft blooms bedazzle wherever they arise, offering soft color on a vigorous, dense, carefree vine. The cheery white eye adds to the appeal of these blooms, which swirl open in the morning and then close again in afternoon. Perfect for covering unsightly buildings, tumbling over fences, or decorating any vertical garden structure from the mailbox to the lamppost, Heavenly Blue blooms over a very long summer and fall season and is pest-free.
