

Statice

Superb fresh or dried!

All the glorious colors that have made this Statice the gardener's choice for fresh or dried arrangements--as well as garden display! Apricot, light and dark blue, purple, rose, yellow, and white--this mix contains them all, for a wonderful mixed planting or bouquets of every description! Statice is a glorious Everlasting, truly deserving of the name since it holds its rich color for years when dried, and the Soiree Improved series is the best of the annual Statice! Dense, papery flowerheads simply cover the uniform 2-foot plants all summer long, leaving you with the problem of whether to cut it at first bloom for dried use or let it revel in full glory in the summer sun! Either way, Soiree never disappoints!

Easy to grow in full sun, it is not picky about soil type provided the drainage is adequate. Plants are superb for the border or bed, and indispensable for the cutting garden!

To dry, simply cut the stem at desired height (or cut the entire plant at the base), remove the foliage, and hang the branch upside-down in a well-ventilated, dry location.
