

Coreopsis verticillata 'Moonbeam'

Common Name: Coreopsis

Bloom Time: June - Frost

Height: 15 – 18”

Exposure: Sun

General Information: One of the easiest perennials to grow. It compliments nearly all other plants in the garden with its yellow blooms. It is particularly long-lived, has a longer flowering time and is more drought tolerant than others in the genus. After blooming at end of summer, cut off dead flower heads to encourage a fall re-bloom.
